They have developed everything from mobile games, PC games, console games, home games, online games and browser games. They recently revealed their new title called Asura's Wrath. It's an online MMORPG and it's a Final Fantasy roleplaying game. Fantasy MMORPG: Asura's Wrath PC/Online: Released on Windows and Mac Developer: THQ Publisher: THQ Link: There is no doubt that this game is a MMORPG and it has been compared to World of Warcraft. This game also has a lot of unique features, some of which include : combat system, building system, customization system and a lot more. I am just going to talk about the combat system and building system. Combat System This game has an intense combat system. Every action has a great response from the game. In this battle system, you need to strategically plan ahead. You can make attacks that you can use on your enemies or you can let your enemies take the attacks. You can even dodge to avoid attacks from your enemies. Building System In this game, you can build your own homes, villages and even castles. You can use items, trade to obtain different types of materials and combine them to get something new. You can also trade with other players to obtain the desired materials.
