The FBI released another batch of documents today pertaining to their bogus investigation into the Trump campaign. Included in the documents is a November 16, 2016 email exchange between senior FBI official Peter Strzok and fellow FBI official Bill Priestap. Strzok: "Thanks to all who worked this." The documents are public, so we know that Strzok is talking about the fake "Russian collusion" investigation. TRENDING: BREAKING REPORT: President Trump to Nominate Amy Coney Barrett to Replace Ginsburg on the Supreme Court The Hill reported: Republican lawmakers, backed by President Trump, are demanding that the Department of Justice and FBI provide copies of any of the anti-Trump text messages between FBI officials Peter Strzok and Lisa Page, as well as the notes taken by FBI officials who interviewed former National Security Adviser Michael Flynn. In an October letter to Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein, House Judiciary Committee Chairman Bob Goodlatte (R-Va.) said he was demanding the documents because they "may shed further light on the circumstances of Flynn's interview and the circumstances of the FBI investigation into Russian interference in the 2016 election." Goodlatte said in a statement that he has "hoped that the Inspector General's investigation into these text messages would shed further
