RubberStamp aims to enhance the functionality of the Windows clipboard by allowing you to work with multiple text entries and create templates for quick pasting. Paste various text pieces without using hotkeys Unlike other programs in its category, this application does not require you to remember key combinations to paste one of the stored items. Instead, it can be set to stay on top of all the other opened windows, offering one-click access to the text you want to paste. RubberStamp is very easy to work with and configuring it is a breeze. It displays a simple window comprising twenty items that you can customize to your liking with the help of the integrated editor. Create text templates with variable fields Each button can be assigned a label for easy recognition and the button colors and style can be easily customized. The application enables you to enter any text, alongside other variable fields, such as the current date and time, a name, a number, an e-mail address, a phone number, a department or other miscellaneous information. You can define these fields from the 'Settings' menu, which comes in handy for creating a complete signature to use at the end of an e-mail. In case you want to store a short text as a new clipboard entry, there is a much simpler alternative to using the dedicated editor. You just have to copy the text piece to the clipboard and right-click on any of the available buttons. In order to avoid overwriting an existing item, RubberStamp can be locked, which disables editing. A reliable clipboard enhancement tool RubberStamp can be a real time-saver, especially to those who must work with the same text pieces repeatedly (such as 'Thank you' e-mails). It tries to keep things as simple as possible, helping you paste the desired text much easier and much faster, without having to remember multiple shortcut keys. System Requirements: - Windows XP SP1, Windows Vista, Windows 7, Windows 8 This is a modified version of the standard 'ReplicatorPlus (TPR)' that includes DirectAccess and Windows Licensing support. As with the standard replicatorplus, TPR Direct Access is always on, but this is the real TPR replicatorplus. So, what do we call it: TPR Direct Access replicatorplus (lol). If you have any question regarding the usage of or issues in using the software, please post it in the support section of the technet forum, and i will try to help you as soon as possible. Thank you!

The.NET Framework 4 comes with the very powerful MVVM Light toolkit. This toolkit consists of several controls that help you to create rich applications that implement the MVVM pattern. MVVM Light includes the following controls:

- The Wizard control allows you to create dialogs, wizards, and forms without using the form designer.
- The Dock control provides a dockable area for your application forms and lets you easily add buttons, panels, and docking containers to it.
- The Window control provides a common look and feel for dialogs, forms, and windows.
- The TabControl control is the most powerful of all controls in MVVM Light. This control allows you to add tabs to forms, new pages in your application, and dialogs.
- The Image control

provides a set of image controls that help you to create complex user interfaces. The controls feature a set of eventhandlers that allow you to easily bind your data to the images. • The Calendar control helps you to easily create date and time pickers for your application. • The ControlTemplate control allows you to use the same style for different controls. • The LinkedTextBox control extends the TextBox control by adding two-way bindings to the text property of the control. • The ListBox control provides a two-way

Add a new system clipboard entry without having to think about the hotkeys. Print the clipboard content to a new sheet of paper, add comments or store the text piece as a new clipboard entry, just by right-clicking on the button you want to paste. Access the clipboard by pressing any of the buttons, in conjunction with a hotkey. No configuration is required - just start working with the program. Erase the clipboard content by pressing any of the buttons, in conjunction with a hotkey. Print or clear the clipboard content, by pressing the buttons at any time. Easily customize all the buttons, change their colour, text and background. Add comments, set the buttons positions and activate a print or clipboard function, via a contextual menu. You can add and remove buttons by using the contextual menu. To edit the settings, right-click on a button. Note: RubberStamp currently only supports the Windows Vista, Windows 7 and Windows 8 operating systems. It will not work on other operating systems. VBAUninstaller 1.0 offers to users the possibility to easily uninstall any VBAProject from a running VBA program. Also the software displays the project properties like project path, VBA Project, user name, installed modules, macros, references and the whole list of references and macros. The program can be started with several commands. The users can minimize the software, use it as a service or terminate the program to have the program starts each time the application is started. Find.NET 1.7.0 is a small and light-weight software to find files by filtering by file name (wildcards are supported), last modified, file type, folder name, drive/partition name, size of file, file attributes and extended attributes. It is optimized for searching hard disks. It has a simplified interface that does not require many mouse clicks and is easy to use. It is especially useful for searching files inside folders using a specific word pattern (e.g. ..xml) - it will find all files containing this word in the folder. With Find.NET you can search in folders, deep inside the hierarchy of folders (even within ZIP-files), and you can exclude any folders from the results. It has a lot of useful options: various ways to filter results, sorting and grouping, export and merge, plus more. You can also choose whether to activate the filter automatically when you start the search, and you can decide

Fix annoying hotkeys in Windows clipboard

While working on multiple documents, you may copy one or more pieces of text and then wish to paste them with a single keystroke. What if you cannot remember those key combinations? You can simply press Command-V to paste the last entered text piece, yet that simply puts the new data into the clipboard, without actually copying it to it. But if you have RubberStamp installed, it will try to keep the last entered text as an entry in the Windows clipboard.

review, RubberStamp had not yet been updated. I use it often, and so it is something that I really like. In spite of the fact that the latest update did not change any of the features that I liked, it is a perfectly fine and useful product. Why Choose RubberStamp This program is also a superb clipboard program that's been around since 1996, it's been around as long as Windows XP. It does precisely what a clipboard manager should do. I can't say anything bad about this program, other than that the most recent update did not change anything for me, except that it updated the copyright info. Downloading the program is a snap. It's a simple process. Even on a slow computer, this program runs really well, it's not a resource hog. The program's interface is very simple, easy to understand and use. Once you install the program, you set it up and you're ready to go. Cons: RubberStamp is a paid program, it's not a free download. Program cannot synchronize with other computers. Updates need to be purchased. No way to save text. Helpful? Yes | No | Report Features With a few clicks, I can set the program to stay on top of all other windows. I can move the rubber stamp to other locations on the screen. It's been around for years.
