LeXii Crack+

LeXii is a user-friendly Calculator designed for Educational establishments who wish to aid students with Dyslexia in the classroom. Now, instead of filtering their students monitors to compensate for Dyslexia they can use LeXii to view their students graphs from 1 to 99! LeXii requires no interaction on the part of the user to choose the colour they wish to view graphs in and will ensure the shading of the graphs remain uniform. (Note - LeXii works on all Windows Versions - Vista, 7, 8, 10) All graphs are saved on the monitor in a standard.dat file which is automatically read by LeXii and the data re-presented visually on the screen. Here are some of the main features of LeXii: i. It is a screen filtering calculator - it will tint the entire screen in the requested colour. ii. It can be placed on the desktop to allow easy access to it. iii. It will make the colours in the screen uniform. iv. Allows you to create dynamic graphs for your students to learn from. v. Allows you to have graphs with a fixed visual scale. vi. No extra hardware or software is required, just the Windows standard on your computer. vii. Can be used at home or at an Educational establishment Below is some information on some of the features of LeXii: Current Version: 1.0 Release Date: 30th March 2019 LeXii Help: LeXii help has been provided at the Help File and also the README file which you can find at the bottom of this description.
