wrestled and fell. The Olympic wrestling tournament is in full force as the men of wrestling are very aware that only one person can be crowned as the champion of this year's tournament. In the following, we are going to look at how to pick stocks that will grow long term so that you can build long term wealth. The top 1% of stocks grow by the most and by taking advantage of these trends, you can take advantage of the growth of the stock market. So before we get started, let's first take a look at the top 1% of stocks that are currently trading and why these stocks are currently trading so strongly, including the relationship with the rest of the market. As stocks go, the monthly chart includes the average percentage increase of all stocks over the last year, so it compares the performance of all stocks over the last year. It is very easy to look at the performance of a stock and use it as a perfect indicator of future performance, a stock that is performing well over the last year is great in theory, but it is very hard to pinpoint what is causing the strong performance. The rest of the market can be a great place
