What's New In?

To add text to AutoCAD drawings: Import the text into your drawing to update a label or section name. You can import text in Microsoft Word documents, labels, dimension text, tables, text frames, and AutoCAD drawings. Draw text boxes in section views, annotate views, and replace old dimensions with new dimension text. Add layer text in section views and annotate the view. Import a style directly from any application. Create a customized style from a scanned drawing. Use text styles to easily match the look and style of the lines and area. Make curved and angled segments in section views by typing text or importing an SVG line. Import symbols into drawing views with the Markup Assist feature. The Markup Assistant feature recognizes and aligns imported line and area text. It also recognizes text frames, tables, and dimension text. Insert multiple symbols into a view at once. Import shapes from SVG, XAML, or BIM360 native formats, making it easier to customize symbols for your specific requirements. Associate your symbols with your drawing in one easy step. Use imported 3D objects from the BIM360 server. Associate imported 3D symbols with drawing views, automate mapping, and update symbol properties. Associate symbols directly with your drawing: Start by importing a 3D symbol from BIM360 or the DrawingManager Service, and then associate it to a drawing view. The Symbols Manager view contains all imported symbols. Draw 3D XAML, SVG, or BIM360 symbols in section views. Create a customized style from a scanned drawing. You can apply any imported symbol style. Work with imported geometry as it fits into your existing drawings. Use the Symbols Manager to place imported geometry directly in the drawing. Quickly create, edit, and print merged copies of your drawings. Create merged copies of drawings by copying symbols from one drawing into another. Insert your drawings, sections, and drawings into PDFs. Transfer entire AutoCAD drawings and even entire drawing views to the Clipboard. Save and organize your Clipboard drawing files with a new feature that lets you tag your files with tags. Use the Clipboard Manager to manage your drawing files as you wish. Create your own organization scheme.
