Democrat Takes Shots At GOP Alternative Health Care Plan In Upstate NY HIGHLAND FORD — A Democrat in upstate New York is taking shots at what he calls the GOP's alternative to President Barack Obama's health care law. New York Senate hopeful Carl Paladino has been organizing an event in this Finger Lakes town on Thursday that will include him highlighting the benefits of his plan. Paladino says his plan is something that the president doesn't talk much about but says his plan would allow more Americans to choose their own health care provider. He says: "It's more responsible, a Republican alternative to the Affordable Care Act." He says the Affordable Care Act is currently run like a "monopoly." He says: "Now there's competition. There's more choice, choice that they've been talking about that there's never been." The event is being organized at the Rotary Club of Highland Falls by the local Republican Party. My friends would shoot me as soon as look at me while I was going to college. I was one of them, I know how to stay positive. One day I took a hole in the head and the balls resting in the middle of me, while my friends were shot dead. You turn me into a pincushion and one 570a2141b
