them at the same time The beat of the chord and the beat of the bass can be measured at the same time (only with the first, second and third reeds) The beat is automatically displayed in hertz The beating can be displayed in a numerical value or in hertz Measure the beat at the selected range Measure the beat at the selected range and the chord Measure the beating and the frequency of the chord with the first, second and third (B, A and E) reeds Measure the beating and the frequency of the chord with the first, second and third reeds. Measuring the beat of the chord, the bass and the beat is possible in one go. Just select the desired chords and measure the desired tones at the same time. This makes it possible to measure chords quickly. It is also possible to measure two tones simultaneously in two reeds. Tuning the chords can be easily done. Just select the desired chord, select the desired reed and press the B key. In the next step the chord and the beating will be displayed. The B key must be held down to measure the bass and chord together. If the beat is not right, the beat will be displayed automatically after the bass and chord are measured
