Alfa EBooks Manager

Alfa eBooks Manager is an easy-to-use application designed to help you manage and organize your e-books by creating a database. The main window is meant to resemble shelves, so you can add, remove and sort items accordingly. The window also includes a useful toolbar that offers a plethora of options such as book view, search and e-book conversion. Simple to use You can start by creating a database of authors so as to assign them e-books later on. The next step is manually adding an e-book by entering a flurry of information such as title, subtitle, publisher, edition, publishing date, language, format, number of pages and so on. Alternatively, you can scan a chosen folder for actual e-book files (such as AZW, CBR, CBZ, DJVU, EPUB, HTML, MOBI, PDF, TXT and many more), then leave it to Alfa eBooks Manager to retrieve details like ISBN, covers, table of contents and others. Add e-books from web or the Internet You can also add an e-book by looking for it on the web. You can choose the platforms that it should search on, then have all the info automatically retrieved. In addition to the previously mentioned details, you can also assign some other data to your items. You can enter the purchase price, the weight, and the exact dimensions, as well as add tags and genres. Professional application Alfa eBooks Manager is a professional application and is developed by experts. Its reliability and stability are guaranteed by its 5-year support. The software is suitable for use in small and large companies. You can convert files on the go You can convert e-books to PDF, TXT, MOBI, HTML, AZW, CBR, CBZ and other file formats from one to another. You can use standard settings or set your own preferences.Q: AngularJS: Setting variable from string to Variable I'm trying to set a variable from a string. Here's what I have:

var paths = { }; angular.forEach($scope.paths, function(path) { paths[path] = "; }); var fn = "{{ paths.{{ property }} }}" ; $scope.test = fn; console.log($scope.test);
```

 I'm using AngularJS 1.2.23
