PlayCD is a compact and easy-to-use CD player for Windows. PlayCD can be configured to support a large number of play modes, including text display, audio and video playback, and internet play. PlayCD Features:

 CD Text  PlayCD can display CD text from the main project file (MS-DOS-based CD text files) and from the CDDB/Freedb text databases (from the Netscape/Mozilla CDDB system). PlayCD also has play modes that play audio tracks as individual samples. These modes are freebcd, audio, background, audio_bg, audio_freedb, audio_freedb_background, audio_text, audio_text_fd, audio_text_freeb, audio_video, audio_video_background, audio_video_background_fd, video, video_text.  Audio  PlayCD can play audio from the main project file or from the CDs bin files. All audio files are analyzed and can be played at different sampling rates. Most audio files also have a text track and can be set to open the file at specified playing positions.  Video  PlayCD can play video clips (video codecs that are either compressed or as uncompressed bitmaps). PlayCD can also play video movie files (.avi or.wmv).  Background  PlayCD can play audio or video clips while a CD is in the background, even when the PC is not idle. PlayCD uses a system timer to determine the audio or video interval to be played (at a default setting of 1 second).  Internet PlayCD can connect to the Internet to get information for a list of websites, or to download information. For more information, see: PlayCD Notes: PlayCD is currently in Alpha development. It will also not be distributed as a VST-plugin.
