· 75% Free · Heroes of Newerth Windows 7 Theme items are safe to use and won't affect your PC performance. · Heroes of Newerth Windows 7 Theme items are here to stay! Use them as long as you want! I will be adding content to the site as I finish it. I should have an alpha of the fourth episode up in a day or so. it was an epic match! 4 consecutive 90 minute matches, 7 maps, and only 4 humans remaining to play when the Dreamhack was finished. 5 out of the 6 games I watched, I was hoping all the way to the end that Dreamhack would kick out the Chinese/Russian Evil team. It seemed like it was done at the time, but the Dreamhack is, after all, a live broadcast. when I saw the team, I was like holy cow, they're the same team from EU that beat Jaggerd for first place. It was very, very...surprising when I saw it was China/Russia. I thought it was Immortals or Newbee. Anyway, the next match was Barona vs. Qojqva. The score was 14-8 for Barona. Only one game where Barona got to take down Fortress, and it was Qojqva's night to try and pick their first win. Barona did their best to prove it was their night, but Qojqva, even when they lost point for point, showed up to try and fight every game. When all was said and done, Barona ended up getting 4 wins and Qojqva only 2. A few minutes later, the top two teams, Barona and Qojqva, played their semi finals. Barona showed up ready to take on Qojqva. It was a great match, especially the last one, because Qojqva tried everything they could to try and take down the Fortress of Barona. It was a war from start to finish. Barona walked away with a very close decision. I was hoping Barona would do well, because I actually felt that they were the best team at Dreamhack. I thought Immortals might be really good, because they won the whole thing in June. Unfortunately, I didn't see much of Immortals this time, and Barona had to kill themselves to get to the finals. Qojqva took home the title! 09e8f5149f
