I have two where I have given ids as I have two other panels where I am rendering a partial view as I want to render a partial view (from the mentioned partial view controller) inside the left-panel and right-panel. How can I do it? A: You can use ng-include. Q: Python - zip with extra arguments I am trying to use the python function zip to zip up three lists. However, I would like to use extra arguments to zip together the lists, to make it look a bit neater. "This virus highlights the fact that as a woman, I deserve the same dignity as any other American should and all my rights as a woman are as important as your rights." She continued: "This president and his administration should stop using women as political pawns. They should lead the charge to contain this virus and take the necessary steps to prevent it. Until they do, women must stay vigilant against the rise of illnesses caused by inequality." Richards noted that the upcoming presidential election presents the opportunity for progress to be made and for Congress to pass a law to provide $1.9 billion to fight Zika. for Margaret would be appreciated.
