Alrighty, so this week we've got a video of a game called "Mario and Luigi: Dream Team" where you can play as the respective Mushroom Princesses and take part in a side-scrolling game. You can play as Princess Peach, Princess Daisy or Princess Koopa. For the first time in a Mario platformer, Mario and Luigi are on their side. And they need all the help they can get to get along and defeat the evil Bowser! Here's the game. Hello Guys, As you guys know, I am pretty fast in my blog updates, more like a human whirlwind! So last night I was asleep around 11 PM and woke up at 4 AM and found this YTD SUBSCRIBE page. I have created a Facebook page that I

System Requirements For VolumeOut:

Windows 7 or newer (32 or 64 bit) C compiler with MS compiler tools
Exercise solution: Plan 1: Make a project using the AVR GCC compiler. You could also change the startup file to use avr-g++, which should be easier than editing the Makefile, because it's already setup to be in the working directory. Disassemble the program using avrdude. To compile the binary:
