To provide a more balanced view of how to properly evaluate the impact of these apps, we've interviewed three different vendors to understand how they approach business performance analytics. Boyd: Peyton at the top of his game Legendary coach Tony Dungy has worked with plenty of famous quarterbacks, including John Elway, Brett Favre and Tom Brady. But Dungy, in an interview with The Star, feels now is the time for Peyton Manning to become the greatest of all time. "I do think he's at the top of his game," Dungy said, "and I think the best of all time for quarterbacks, for being able to make plays with the sideline against (a) sound defense, to be able to throw against the blitz, against a sound defense. "He's just to that point now where he's the guy you want to play against. And I think that is at the top of his game right now. I think he's playing some of the best football of his career right now." Manning hasn't posted a sub-4,000-yard passing season in five years. But that was before a season-ending injury last year forced him to play with a cast on his left hand. "We always believed that (4,000 yards) was around the corner, and then it never happened," Dungy said. "But that's what we thought he would do. And he's still working at it." They've also witnessed the rise of rookie Andrew Luck, who has led the Colts to the playoffs in each of his first two seasons. But Dungy also believes young quarterbacks are limited by their offensive systems and their offensive lines. He doesn't believe Luck will ever throw the ball 50 times a game. "The key for you when you're a rookie is to not throw the ball more than 30 times a game," he said. "Because you don't need to. You do enough. "And now, the (Luck) teams are going to see a little bit of a different offensive system. It's going to be more of a spread offense, with a lot of different players, a lot of different (weapons), so it's going to open things up for him a little bit." In a more positive tone, Dungy said he thinks quarterbacks have been less quick to point fingers than they used to be. "You don't see too many quarterbacks on the bench as much as you used to," he said. "I mean, you'd get sucked into the media firestorm if you did that, but the media is a little more
