A: You can't stop a user from doing what they want to do, but you can stop them from seeing what they've done. All you have to do is move the 'unsaved' content back into a single-page state, and then when they click on the "back" button they won't see the unsaved content. function handler() { document.getElementById('target-page').innerHTML = "hello"; } function handler2() { document.getElementById('target-page').innerHTML = "there"; } function goOn() { document.getElementById('target-page').innerHTML = "next page"; window.history.pushState("", "", "sample.html"); } function goBack() { document.getElementById('target-page').innerHTML = "saved content"; window.history.pushState("", "", ""); } click click 55cdc1ed1c
