This software makes it easy to lookup the ISBN number and find out the book's title, authors, publisher, price, reviews, average rating and other important data on the web. When you lookup the ISBN number for a book, it displays the name of the author, publisher, title and some other data on the book. The authors name can also be searched to find the authors name, if you are unsure of the ISBN. The software can lookup the ISBN, title, author, publisher, authors name, and reviews. It can also automatically look up an ISBN for books not registered in your account and download the books from online stores. After downloading it to your computer, you can view the list of books, select the book you are interested in, and make notes. All the information about a book is displayed on the screen. If the book is available in the browser book store, you can download the book to your computer. If the ISBN is registered in your account, you can use it to lookup the book on online stores, make a note and read reviews. If you want to lookup an ISBN, you can click 'Look Up An ISBN' to open the window. You can now enter a ISBN or title of a book for lookup and the software will search for the ISBN or the title on the internet. When the lookup is finished, it will return all the information about the book, such as the ISBN, title, authors, publisher, price, reviews, and reading date. If the ISBN is registered in your account, you can download the book to your computer. You can then get a bookmark for the page that the software returns. The ISBN Lookup and ISBN Search is the only application on our site that allows you to lookup the ISBN directly from your browser. If you don't know the ISBN, you can search for the authors name. It is easy to use and free. U.S. Government database of federal laws and regulations now available on the Internet for anyone to search for July 12, 2003 - The U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) launched the Federal Register today with two related Web sites: www.regulations.gov and www.law.oam.gov. This initiative recognizes the growing need for access to this database of proposed and final rules and the ancillary documents that accompany them.
