In a nutshell, this is a tiny utility that enables you to “right-click” on a folder and create a keyboard macro to easily access it in the future. What you can do with this tool: You can create a macro to open an image, folder, file, executable, etc. The tool allows you to set keyboard shortcuts and apply them to an image, text, folder, or file. You can create a macro to launch a program with a single click. You can use these keyboard shortcuts to launch commonly used applications, such as Internet Explorer or your favorite torrent client. The program offers two types of macro: – Hotkey: This is a function that you can launch from the keyboard. You can use any combination of characters and symbols you want. – Keystroke: This is a function that you can trigger by pressing a key combination. For example, you can create a macro to launch Internet Explorer by pressing the F5 key. You can find the programs you have registered in the “Options” tab. There are plenty of other features, but you can read the full description of this handy utility in the “help” section. KEYMACRO Price: FREE Space (Application Cleaner) is a portable application that helps you clean the Recycle Bin, temporary files, history, browsing data, cookies, desktop items, Internet browser, and operating system. In short, this is an all-in-one tool which makes it easy to manage programs that are not taking up memory and drive space. A few words on Space (Application Cleaner) This tool is not a standalone app, but a program that you can drop to a USB flash drive and use it to clean your computer. You can choose whether to allow program modifications or not. This is something you definitely should not do. In addition, this app enables you to schedule cleanup tasks. The utility lets you choose a time and date to empty your Recycle Bin, the hard disk, temporary files, and the cache, and your Internet browser history. The “Settings” tab enables you to keep tabs on the cleanup process, as well as choose the duration and number of days between different cleaning tasks. Space (Application Cleaner) is a powerful utility that lets you clean up your computer, but also goes far beyond the capabilities of many other applications.
