Q: How to change border-bottom-color from bottom of element I have a problem with changing CSS on DIV: I have a div with input inside (in html): and in CSS: .bottom-bar-input{ border-bottom-style: solid; border-bottom-color: #fff; } But this style is being applied only to the top part of the input element, but not the bottom. Do you know how can I change the css so that the border-bottom-color is being applied to the whole input box? A: In case of input type text, element becomes a block level when you increase height of the parent. For this reason, you need a style like below height: 300px; .bottom-bar-input{ border-bottom-style: solid; border-bottom-color: #fff; margin: 388ed7b0c7

Factors related to premature interruption of glaucoma treatment. To analyze factors related to the cessation of regular intraocular pressure (IOP) control due to the unresponsiveness of glaucoma patients. Data were collected from the hospital database of the Jules Stein Eye Institute. We reviewed data on 1,815 glaucoma patients who received IOP control with either topical medications alone or IOP-lowering surgery for over 2 years. The frequency of the type of treatment for glaucoma, the interval between the initiation of treatment and glaucoma surgery, and preoperative IOP levels were analyzed as the dependent variables, and age, sex, and number of topical antiglaucoma medications were analyzed as covariates. In relation to types of treatment, the percentage of patients treated with medication alone or a combination of medication and trabeculotomy was 99.2%. The overall success rate of IOP control was 64.8%, with the frequency of trabeculotomy surgery increasing with increasing age and the number of medications. The duration between treatment initiation and surgery was longest for patients treated with medications alone (median, 2.6 years) and shortest for those treated with both medications and trabeculotomy (median, 1.1 years). Among patients treated with medication alone, the success rate was lowest in patients 65 years of age and older (53.5%). Among patients treated with both medications and trabeculotomy, success was lowest in patients 65 years of age and older (52.9%). Multiple regression analysis indicated that preoperative IOP was the most significant risk factor for the cessation of treatment in patients treated with medication only (p Before the trials he made it into the news for a series of flamboyant, attention-seeking activities. A TV personality, who was known for his outrageous behavior, once tried to rape a young woman and for a time he was the rapper, Ice-T, but he was not from L.A. He seemed to have enjoyed this sudden fame too, because he was incapable of doing anything just because he wanted to. He
