You're in good company Photography isn't the only type of art you can make with the Creative Suite. Artists and typographers have created beautiful works from this package. In addition, video and film makers have used the tools to create their work. ## Working with the Program The program has multiple ways of opening documents and the work you do in Photoshop. For the most part, the process is very similar in all of them. However, there is one big exception, and that's layers. To create a layer in Photoshop you select the Layer command from the Create panel. After you do that, all the images that were on that layer appear at the bottom of the Layers panel. You can manipulate them as if they were part of the original document. Layers are one of the strengths

Objective ========= The present study aimed to compare the risk factors associated with severe neonatal outcomes between infants born in facilities and infants born at home. Methods ======= A case-control study was performed between January 2014 and June 2015 to identify neonatal risk factors associated with severe outcomes (death, neonatal sepsis, septic shock and proven early onset sepsis) in live born infants from the general population. Controls were matched to the cases in strata of each associated risk factor. Results ======= A total of 5,824 live births were evaluated and were stratified by place of birth (facility vs. home). Severe outcomes were more frequent among infants born at home (73.7%) compared to infants born in facilities (67.6%, OR 1.6: 1.3-2.0). In this situation, multivariate analysis showed that birth at home was independently associated with severe outcomes (OR 1.4:1.1-1.9).

Conclusion ========== When compared to birth in the facilities, home delivery is an independent risk factor for severe neonatal outcomes. The present study highlights the need for home delivery to be discouraged and therefore given priority in Brazil and globally. Fall River Backlog (5B) Backlogs (sometimes incorrectly referred to as slumps) are the means by which the levee board keeps track of the estimated number of months that it will take for anticipated levee rehabilitation projects to be completed. When the anticipated project length is shorter than the estimated number of months, then a backlog is added to the project and the anticipated completion date is modified. Preparation of the Backlog In January 2010, the City of Fall River approved a Watershed Study to update its basin management plan, and to better prioritize the needs of future projects. In June 2010, the study identified this as a high priority project. At the same time, the Legislature directed the city to prioritize any levee project that would result in flood protection for over 3,000 acres, and to take action on the study within 5 years. In order to calculate the anticipated completion date for the project, the University of Massachusetts Boston Levee Research Program contacted surveyors and engineers in the Boston area, and used their data to project the number of months needed for the project. In August 2010, the City submitted the required 4-year budget request to
